Southern Teachers Agency has been retained by Porter-Gaud School for the search to find their next Upper School Principal. Porter-Gaud School was originally established in 1867 by the Rev. Anthony Toomer Porter to educate children orphaned as a result of the Civil War. Today, Porter-Gaud serves 903 boys and girls in grades one through twelve on an 80-acre campus on Albemarle Point, just minutes from downtown Charleston. On separate, nearby campuses, the O'Quinn Schools of Porter-Gaud serve another 630 students from two-years-old through kindergarten. Steeped in history and tradition, Porter-Gaud School is an institution committed to its mission:

Porter-Gaud is an Episcopal, coeducational, independent, college preparatory day school. We acknowledge the sovereignty of God, recognize the worth of the individual, and seek to cultivate a school community that endows its citizens with a foundation of moral and ethical character and intellect. Porter-Gaud fosters a challenging academic environment that honors excellence in teaching and learning, respects differences, expects honesty, and applauds achievement. The school strives to create an environment that nurtures and protects what we value most in our children: their faith, their curiosity, their talents, their integrity, their humanity, and their dreams.

Guided by an exceptional faculty in a vibrant campus environment, students at Porter-Gaud discover the interests, talents, and passions that will define their future. During their time at the school, they develop the discipline that will serve as the foundation to their success academically, professionally, and personally.

Porter-Gaud School seeks a seasoned professional with exceptional leadership abilities and interpersonal skills. In particular, they are looking for candidates who have the ability to develop and maintain relationships and who employ a management style that allows them to work effectively with diverse groups of constituents and reports, sometimes under stressful circumstances. The best candidates will be able to formulate and articulate effective strategies for professional development, staff evaluation, student discipline, and collaborative approaches to enrollment management. Finally, the school seeks people with unquestioned integrity who are excited about Porter-Gaud School, Charleston, and contributing as a visible and active participant in the life of this community.
